A Toy Boat Event
(written, illustrated and typed by Alexei)

Further out to the deep, blue sea the little toy boat met a huge cruise ship. The cruise ship had big beady eyes that seemed to scream "Get out of my way or I will crash you."

The little toy boat was frightened because the little toy boat was scared of the big cruise ship. How he missed the boy.

Further out to the deep, blue sea, little toy boat charged a big enormous cruise liner that had big beady eyes that seemed to say "Move out of my way before I crash you." Little toy boat shivered and was scared and terrified too.

Little toy boat ran away from the big enormous cruise liner that had a big thin bow.

A Toy Boat Event
(written, illustrated and typed by Jacob)

The little terrified toy boat crashed into a huge cruise liner and it yelled, "Get out of my way before I jump on you!" Then the toy boat crashed back but it got tossed by the waves.

Then the hull got water in it and it turned over and almost sunk. How it missed the boy.

Far out in the deep, deep ocean the little toy boat crashed slowly right into a huge cruise liner ship which seemed to command, "You there, get out of my way or I will crash you!" That made little toy boat scared and TERRIFIED so it zoomed like a lightning bolt right out of the cruisers way.

Then the little toy boat travelled all night meaning how much it missed his owner.

Explicit Instruction is being implemented across the school and has been welcomed by all classes. As I was visiting classrooms this week I was impressed with Year 2D who have been working hard on their English 'Warm Ups' and have developed both their speed and accuracy in identifying and decoding a large number of words. Students were able to articulate what a compound word is and could identify words that sound the same but are spelt differently. These skills assist students in reading, spelling and writing. Well Done Year 2D!!

I attend the Glenmore State High School Awards Evening on Monday night and was very proud to see so many of our previous students receiving an award for either academic, sporting or community achievements. The high school students espoused the expectations of their school, being Responsibility, Respect and Excellence which made for an extremely enjoyable presentation night. I was particularly impressed with the high numbers of students in Years 8 and 9 who were awarded Credit and Distinction awards. I had the honour of presenting the Faculty Awards to students who demonstrated a high level of engagement and achievement in each faculty.

We are in the process of finalising our class groupings and staffing for 2013. Thank you to those families who have returned our survey indicating intentions for 2013. This has been extremely helpful for this process. If you are considering enrolling your child in Prep for 2013 please collect an enrolment form from the School Office.

As you are aware, our students in Years 6 and 7 will be entering an exciting new phase of their education next year with the implementation of Junior Secondary in high schools. We are part of the Year 7 Pilot which will see Year 7 move from the Primary School to the High School starting next year. The Junior Secondary model will differ slightly to the traditional high school format with a view to cater for the changing needs of adolescent learners. As part of the transition arrangements there will be a disco on Wednesday 21 November for students who have already the High School in Years 7 or 8 for 2013. Invitations for the disco have been sent out this week. If your child is attending Glenmore High School next year and hasn’t yet enrolled please contact the High School Office for an enrolment package.

You are always welcome at Glenmore Primary School.

PRAISE UPDATE

Thank you to all the parents who returned the surveys on PRAISE. These responses were collated and discussed at our last meeting. From this meeting, it was decided that the following aspects would be listed and explained:

- Name change from SWPBS to PRAISE – this was decided during term one of this year. The concepts have not changed; however, we wanted to shift the focus from just behaviour to the whole child. Therefore the PRAISE acronym stands for – Positive Reinforcement And Intensive Social Education. It is important for behaviour to be positively reinforced when children use appropriate behaviour. By also emphasising the development of social skills, values and resilience; children learn to successfully deal with inappropriate behaviour.
- Process for inappropriate behaviour – all class teachers follow a suggested format for dealing with inappropriate behaviour in class. This can range from speaking to the child after class, moving the child away from the group, a formal time out in the room, discussion with parents. During play time, teachers attempt to deal with behaviours – talking to the child, having the child walk with the teacher for a time, sitting out of play. When further action is required, teachers complete a pink or yellow slip. Pink slips are a warning while the yellow slip indicates the need for detention. Slips are discussed weekly with the class reminding them of our three behaviour expectations – I am respectful, I am responsible and I am a learner.
- Major inappropriate behaviour is recorded – at times, inappropriate behaviour demands further action than mentioned above. When this occurs, staff must enter the incident/s on OneSchool and it becomes part of the child’s behaviour history. This occurs when the child has had three lunch detentions in one term, there has been admin follow up of an incident and/or a child is suspended.
- Accessing the website – the school’s Responsible Behaviour Plan is on Glenmore State School’s website. It details processes and procedures the school uses. It follows a template used by all State schools in Queensland.

Again, thank you for your response to our surveys. We hope the above information has helped explained some of the items on the survey sheet. We always welcome feedback from parents and if you wish other information to be explained, please contact the office so it can be included in future newsletters.
